AND REGARDING Reliance Mortgage Company Ltd. (“Reliance Mortgage”)

INTERIM ORDER TO SUSPEND LICENCE
and
NOTICE OF PROPOSAL TO REVOKE LICENCE
and
NOTICE OF PROPOSAL TO IMPOSE ADMINISTRATIVE MONETARY PENALTY

Reliance Mortgage is a licensed mortgage brokerage under the Act.

INTERIM ORDER TO SUSPEND LICENCE

Section 19(1) of the Act provides that the Superintendent of Financial Services (“Superintendent”) may, in appropriate circumstances, revoke a mortgage brokerage licence. Section 21 of the Act provides that where the Superintendent proposes to revoke a licence, the Superintendent shall give written notice of the proposal to the mortgage brokerage, including reasons for the proposal. A notice of proposal to revoke Reliance Mortgage’s licence is set out below.

Section 19(3) of the Act provides that, if in the Superintendent’s opinion the interests of the public may be adversely affected by any delay in the revocation of a licence as a result of the steps required by section 21, the Superintendent may, without notice, make an interim order suspending the licence.

In the Superintendent’s opinion, the interests of the public may be adversely affected by any delay in the revocation of Reliance Mortgage’s licence for the following reasons:

1. Mortgage brokerages are required to have errors and omissions (“E&O”) insurance pursuant to section 7(4) of the Act and section 42 of Regulation 188/08;
2. The Superintendent has approved a number of insurers for providing E&O coverage to brokerages under the Act. The Superintendent conducted an audit and found that Reliance Mortgage does not have E&O coverage from one of the approved providers;

3. The Superintendent requested further information from Reliance Mortgage regarding Reliance Mortgage's E&O coverage in light of the Superintendent's findings, by email sent December 14, 2010;
4. When there was no response, the Superintendent sent a registered letter and another email requesting further information between January 12 and April 12, 2011. Two representatives of the Financial Services Commission of Ontario ("FSCO") telephoned the brokerage in that period and were informed by a contact person for Reliance that the principal broker was out of town on both occasions;
5. No further communication was received and no insurance certificate has been provided. The Superintendent is also unable to determine whether or not Reliance Mortgage has conducted business while uninsured. Although the brokerage filed a mandatory Annual Information Return ("AIR") for the year 2009, indicating no business was conducted, no AIR was filed for the year 2010;
6. Reliance Mortgage does not have the required E&O insurance and has thereby contravened a requirement established under the Act;
7. E&O insurance is a statutorily-mandated measure to protect the public against potential errors and omissions committed by a brokerage and its brokers and agents. The absence of E&O insurance during any period in time puts the public directly at risk of not being able to recover for losses arising from errors and omissions occurring during that period;
8. As long as the licence is not suspended, Reliance Mortgage continues to be authorized to deal or trade in mortgages with the public;
9. The Superintendent therefore is of the opinion that the public is at risk and will continue to be at risk until Reliance Mortgage's licence is suspended or Reliance Mortgage obtains E&O insurance; and accordingly that a delay in the revocation of Reliance Mortgage's licence would adversely affect the public interest.
